

Our Electronic Term Deposit Service

Hoddinott Consulting offers an electronic term deposit service which saves you time and money by:

- Giving you access to over 25 financial institutions for some of the best rates available
- The ability to transact via phone to us saving you the need to go to a bank
- The ability to transfer funds in whole or part to your personal bank account
- Access to a range of investment terms from 1 month to 24 months
- Annual Reporting for taxation purposes
- Access to 'at call' cash accounts paying competitive interest rates

The simplicity of our service centres around the electronic web based programme that we used to access and place term deposits at your request and at our fingertips. If you worry whether your bank is giving you the best available rates but don't have the time to ring around the dozens of them out there to find out if they are, then our service solves that problem for you.

We use a service called the Australian Money Market and have done so for a number of years. The deposits enjoy the same Government guarantees offered on all similar deposits and our low fees for transacting these for you are most often more than covered by the higher rates we usually can offer over retail banks.

So if you have existing term deposits and would like a more efficient professional service to manage them for you then consider giving us a call on 02 4349 4999 before your next renewal is due.....we have yet to have a single client who has transferred to this service decide to return to the 'old inefficient' way of handling their term deposit needs.
